REFUGEE SERVICE LEGAL AID

The Refugee Service is a state-wide specialist service of Legal Aid NSW. We help newly arrived refugees learn about their rights and responsibilities under the law, and access legal services to prevent their legal problems from escalating.

Who we help

We assist newly arrived refugees being settled in NSW.

We assist clients who:

- are on a Refugee or Humanitarian Visa (i.e. 200, 201, 202, 203, 204 and 866 visas),
- have arrived in Australia within the last six years, and
- have not previously seen a lawyer regarding their issue.

Our lawyers assist refugee clients and communities with problems like:

- Immigration
- Housing
- Centrelink
- Fines, bills and debts

- Consumer problems with goods, services or contracts
- Discrimination or harassment
- Car accidents
- Employment
- Wills and estates (we cannot draft wills)
- Domestic and family violence
- Divorce
- Separation and arrangements for children
- Problems with Family and Community Services

COMMUNITY LEGAL CENTRES NSW

Community Legal Centres (CLCs) are independent community organisations that provide access to legal services, with a particular focus on services to disadvantaged and marginalised people and communities and matters in the public interest. CLCs have a distinctive role in the NSW community and legal sector by:

- Providing general legal advice and assistance for socially and economically disadvantaged people. This includes taking on strategic casework on matters that may affect many in the community;
- Addressing special areas or specific population groups through dedicated centres (e.g. tenancy, credit and debt, domestic and family violence);
- Encouraging capacity building for people to develop skills for self-advocacy; and
- Advocating for improved access to justice and more equitable laws and legal systems.

There are currently 36 CLCs in NSW that are full members of the peak body, Community Legal Centres NSW (CLCNSW). CLCNSW also has several associate members who support the aims and objectives of the organisation.
